

JOSEPH H. CHOATE CALLED BY DEATH

Lawyer of Wide Fame, Ambassador to England, Stricken With Heart Trouble.

Had Come Suddenly in New York Home Late Last Night—Received Vivian and Joffre.

(By Associated Press Special Wire.) New York, May 15.—Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador to Great Britain and lawyer of international fame, died suddenly of heart disease at his home in this city late last night. Mr. Choate complained yesterday morning of feeling depressed and his physician was called. Mr. Choate was ordered to remain in bed, but later in the day he left his room several times to transact some business. About 10:30 o'clock last night he called his wife and daughter, Miss Mabel Choate, to his bedside. According to Miss Choate, he said: "I am feeling very ill; I think this is the end." A few minutes later he died.

Notwithstanding his advanced years, Mr. Choate took an active part in the entertainment last week of the French and British war commissions in New York. He was chairman of the reception committee that met Mr. Rene Viviani, Marshal Joffre and other distinguished members of the French mission last Tuesday and acted in a similar capacity when the British mission headed by Arthur James Balfour arrived in New York Friday.

A Remarkable Octogenarian. Mr. Choate was 85 years old, a lifetime during which he was one of the most distinguished practitioners of law in the United States, ambassador to England with signal success, a speaker applauded on innumerable public occasions, and, finally, a remarkable octogenarian.

He came from an old New England family, noted for strength of character and mental vigor. His father was a cousin of the famous Rufus Choate. He graduated from Harvard in 1882, a college mate of Phillips Brooks. He established himself in New York in 1886 soon after finishing his law studies, and as member of the firm of Evans, Southmayd & Choate, he rose to leadership of the New York bar.

He appeared in all the celebrated cases—It was said a case was not a case unless Choate appeared in it—where his fluency and wit and searching cross-examination brought him considerable success. He figured in the prosecution of "Boss" Tweed and his followers who looted the New York city treasury; he so successfully defended General Fitz-John Porter, that by reversal of a court martial that officer was reinstated; he appeared in the Tilden will case, the contest over Commodore Vanderbilt's millions, and the Chinese exclusion case, arguing against the validity of the act. There are but a few of the famous litigations in which he figured, his presence invariably making any case "an intellectual treat for the public, and a professional education for junior members of the bar."

His professional income during the height of his career was believed to be the largest of any practitioner in the American courts, tho it may occasionally have been surpassed by some of the huge fees paid for special services by some of the great corporations. He won his way through a combination of good humor which gave him the power to hold the attention of the jury in the duller cases, and legal skill.

It is on record that, during his younger days, he had the daring to rebuke a judge, who had turned to converse with someone behind him, while Choate was addressing the court. Choate stopped short in his address. The judge remarked the silence, and as his honor turned to face the room the lawyer began anew:

"Your honor, I shall need all the time allotted me for summing up; and I shall need your honor's undivided attention."

"And you shall have it," the court apologized.

Named by McKinley. Mr. Choate was a republican but had never held public office, beyond a brief term as member of a state constitutional convention, when he was invited by President McKinley in 1898 to go to London as the American ambassador. At a faraway dinner at the Union League club. Mr. Choate remarked upon his inexperience in political or diplomatic life. "I am really," he said, "upon a happy temperament."

After his six years in England he was lauded on both sides of the Atlantic for the remarkable success he had had in strengthening the ties between the English speaking peoples. His range of sociability made him known as ambassador to the people as well as to the court. Numberless times he appeared as a lecturer on American institutions and American statesmen.

A mark of respect never before conferred upon a foreigner in England since the middle of the seventeenth century was paid him when he was adopted by the inner circle of the British bar and made a "bencher" or member of the governing body of the Middle Temple. It was, in fact, a compliment never before paid in London to a lawyer of American birth and training.

As an after dinner speaker, Mr. Choate was a national-international possession. The stories told about him, though were as countless as those he told for he was one of those picturesque figures about which stories cluster—some of which undoubtedly belonged to others. One typical flash of his wit is that with which he answered a dinner partner, who asked who he would choose to be if he were not Joseph H. Choate.

"Mrs. Choate's second husband," was the instantaneous reply. Mrs. Choate was Caroline D. Sterling of Cleveland, Ohio, whom he married in 1861, and by whom he had five children.

APPEAL TO RUSSIAN ARMY TO HOLD FRONT

Council of Workmen's Delegates in Manifesto to Public Declares Peace Impossible.

New Russia to Lay Down Arms—New World Mean Enslavement by Kaiser, Warning.

(By Associated Press Special Wire.) Petrograd, May 15.—The following is the text in part of the manifesto to the Russian army issued by the council of soldiers and peasants' delegates, urging the continuance of the war and declaring that a separate peace is impossible. "Soldiers and comrades at the front: We speak to you in the name of the Russian revolutionary democracy. The people do not wish the war, which was begun by the emperors and capitalists of all countries, and therefore, after the abdication of the czar, the people considered it urgent that the war be stopped as rapidly as possible. Do not forget, soldiers and comrades, that the segments of William are destroying revolutionary Russia. Do not forget that the loss of free Russia would be a catastrophe, not only to us but to the working classes of the entire world. Defend, therefore, revolutionary Russia with all your power.

Separate Peace Impossible. The workmen and peasants of Russia long for peace, but it must be a general peace of all nations, the result of their common agreement. A separate peace is an impossible thing which must not be allowed to interfere with or embarrass the course of events in the world. It is evident that German imperialism, after having defeated our western allies, would turn against us this whole power of its arms, seize our country and enslave the Russian people.

The Council of Soldiers and Workmen's Delegates leads you toward peace in another way. By calling for a revolution of the workmen and peasants of Germany and Austria-Hungary we will lead you to peace after having obtained from our government a renunciation of the policy of conquest and after demanding a similar renunciation from the allied powers. But do not forget, soldiers and comrades, that peace, if achieved, if you do not check the enemy's pressure at the front, if your ranks are pierced and the Russian revolution lies like an inanimate body at William's feet. Do not forget, you in the trenches, that you are defending the liberty of the Russian revolution and your brother workmen and peasants.

Fear Situation Is Worse. Paris, May 15.—The resignations of the Russian minister of war, M.

Guchkov and General Korniloff, the military commander of Petrograd, have caused a painful impression here and increased the feeling that the situation in Russia is getting worse instead of better, and that more, rapidly, than was suspected. Even the socialist Humanite, which naturally views all things by the revolutionary element with an indulgent eye, declares: "All liberals and democrats the world over feel only a too comprehensible anxiety at the turn events are taking."

Light Paris with Oil. (By Associated Press Special Wire.) Paris, May 14.—Owing to the scarcity of coal, preparations are being made to have the streets of Paris lit by oil lamps. Should the coal shortage become more acute, further restriction of the supply of gas and electricity to private houses is expected.

ARE WOMEN NATURALLY DESPONDENT? While there are women who seem always despondent and depressed and expecting misfortune, that is not woman's natural condition. Such unfortunate suffer from ill-health. An abnormal condition of the system expresses itself in nervousness, sleeplessness, backaches, headaches and despondency.

If all ailing women would make faithful use of that grand remedy for woman's ills, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, there would be less occasion to say it is despondent is natural to woman.—Advertisement.

PART OF U. S. FLEET NOW IN NORTH SEA

Twenty Destroyers Already With Allies Fighting Germans, Says G. I. Haight.

Delivers Stirring Address at Aurora Navy League Luncheon at Nelson-Need Men.

"Twenty United States destroyers are in the North sea and others will leave for European waters on May 15," George I. Haight of Chicago announced at the first public meeting of the Aurora branch of the Navy League of America, held in the Dicks club dining room. A. M. Snook presided because of the illness of Carroll Miller.

The United States navy is the superior of any navy—boat for boat—and this great navy today is in need of men is the watchword of the entire Atlantic ocean. The French and English battleships, which since the beginning of the war were a few miles outside our coast lines, have withdrawn and it is up to the United States to keep the ocean lanes clear for merchantmen to travel thru.

Mr. Haight defined the issue of the great world war, as being "the right of people under the rule of democracy versus the alleged divine right of kings."

America Must Awake.

"This is a serious war, the most serious conflict in the history of the world. We don't seem to realize that there are 100 times as many men engaged in the conflict now than were used in the Napoleonic wars. Americans must awaken to a sense of their duty and realize that the issue is greater than the sinking of the Lusitania, whether a foreign power has the right to violate the Monroe doctrine and encroach on this hemisphere; the activities of foreign spies and their plots, and the right to give part of our country to Germany, Villa and the like; the rights of neutrals; the rights of international law; the issue is the rights of men under true democracy versus the alleged divine rights of kings. Our own declaration of independence says, 'Man is born into this world with rights.' That is the ultimate great issue. And man can take only one side in this gigantic struggle."

"Our navy is a most important factor in determining the issue of the war. Germany has plenty of food to carry her thru for a time. England and France are facing a shortage of food supply and a supply of munitions."

Must Aid Our Allies.

"We know the difficulties in getting food and munitions to our allies. The submarine menace is most serious. England's safety is endangered. That is the reason so many troops are held in England. We draw the troops from England and she would be in danger of a land attack."

"We must send an army abroad but it would be folly to send an army over to France unless we can keep our great navy keep our connections intact with our allies. We must be in a position at all times to supply our men with food and munitions."

Men AS Eligibles GET PAY RAISED

Men teachers in the East High school who are not married are liable at any time to rush into a state of matrimony and those who are married surely need the money so this class of instructors was awarded an increase in pay of $100 a year by the board of education last night. The women teachers were given $50 a year more than they receive now. "As unmarried folks they can get along on less than the married man and if they get married they won't need any pay any way." The teachers had petitioned for $100 increase in wages because of the great advance in the cost of living.

Women Teachers Get Half the Increase Because if Married Don't Need Advance.

The first regular meeting of the Aurora Catholic Women's league since its organization as a unit, was held today in K. C. hall. The day nursery department reports that it has had its garden plowed, and thanks to the kindness of Mrs. Elizabeth Barthold, A. J. Erlenborn and several others, potatoes and seeds have been furnished, and the garden is under way, a man having been secured to work it on shares. However, should any one wish to donate a wheelbarrow and a length or garden hose, both will be welcome.

Col. J. K. Groom and O. T. Clark of the Aurora Admen's club were elected delegates to the thirtieth annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, to be held at St. Louis, June 25-27. Two other delegates may be sent.

McDONALD ESTATE

The estate of the late Dr. McDonald, stock farm owner, was filed today at Geneva for probate. It consists of real estate valued at $10,000 and personal property worth $15,000. His will directs that all his debts and funeral expenses be paid and that the balance of the estate go to his widow who was appointed executor.

Must Aid Our Allies.

"We know the difficulties in getting food and munitions to our allies. The submarine menace is most serious. England's safety is endangered. That is the reason so many troops are held in England. We draw the troops from England and she would be in danger of a land attack."

Golden Links Give Concert.

A fine concert was given last evening at the Galena Boulevard Methodist church by the Golden Links class of the Swedish Lutheran church. The members of the class feel most grateful to those who aided in making the concert a success, including the musical talent, the reader, and the members of the Kreis glee club. The proceeds will be used toward the fund for the new church.

END MISERY OF PILES

"Hundreds of people in this vicinity," Peterson, "know of the mighty healing power of PETERSON'S OINTMENT in eczema, salt rheum, old sores, itching skin and ulcers. They know it cures these ailments—that it is guaranteed to cure them."

Now I want to say to every sufferer from piles, either blind, bleeding or itching, that I will guarantee that a 25-cent box of PETERSON'S OINTMENT will rid you of piles or your druggist will return your money. For years I suffered terribly with itching, bleeding piles. I tried everything and despaired of ever getting rid of them. It gives me great pleasure to state that Peterson's Ointment entirely cured me, and I sincerely recommend it to all sufferers."

THE bride and groom of today realize that however little furniture they may need with which to start house-keeping, they "want that little long." Our furniture has that old-time knack of lasting and of being so designed as not to go out of fashion.

You don't expect to buy furniture every day, and therefore when you do buy, you are entitled to goods that you can use every day for a long time. Our furniture is just that kind—made of selected, seasoned woods; fashioned with artistic skill; polished, finished, or upholstered by practiced hands—the kind of furniture that will wear well and that you will be proud of.

Aurora Society News

Aurora may have been slow (it has been accused) in realizing that the country is in a state of war, but if such was the case, it is no longer true. Flags, bunting, clothing, and red, white and blue symbols of every sort are to be seen everywhere, while the talk is of little else but the war and the part the city's residents will play in the great struggle.

For Benefit of Red Cross.

It is said that one of the striking and pretty features in the minstrel show which is to be given at the auditorium Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evening of this week for the benefit of the Red Cross, is the after-piece, a 15-minute production which will show a number of settings associated with the Red Cross movement.

The entire cast in the minstrel show will appear in the inter-actor's show which is the director, E. W. McClave, who has had much experience in staging shows of various sorts, being the psychological moment for the appearance of the full cast.

Miss Florence Henry who is to be the inter-actor (Mrs. Mahaffey having found it impossible to serve) is doing splendid work. Miss Henry will most certainly make a fine Columbia, which is the role in which the inter-actor will appear.

The six end "men" are the Misses Helen Manning, Ruth Maher, Marvel Morlock, Elvenera Gannon, Frances Coleman and Ruth Robinson. The young girls will be assisted by 13 members of the Bachelor club, which recently gave an excellent minstrel show.

The costumes for the young girls in the circle arrived in Aurora this morning. They are extremely pretty, and is strongly urged by the director, in this circle attend the dress parade at the Fox theater evening without fail, as it is absolutely necessary that it is known that all the costumes ordered will be used. Provision has been made for home-going this evening at the conclusion of the rehearsal.

Among the features of the show will be the singing of Miss Eliza Haenel, whose voice is always enjoyed. Miss Haenel will sing "Spring Awakening." Miss Geraldine Chapman will give the "Butterfly Dance." Among the dances, which will be extremely good, is the "Apache dance" given by Miss Jeanette Glinberg and Leonard Applequist.

The full Fox theater orchestra will play accompaniments. Practically everything made at the three performances, it is said, will be turned over to the Aurora chapter of the Red Cross, which is reason enough for buying tickets, even were the show not as good as it really will be.

The patrons and patronesses of the minstrel show are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Groom, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Oyer, Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Brenneke, Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Lee, Dr. and Mrs. D. D. Mrs. Mason Honored.

Mrs. John T. Mason of Aurora, chairman of the legislative committee of the Illinois Federated Women's clubs, and a woman who has been prominent in women's work for a number of years, has been honored by Mrs. Ira Couch Wood by being asked to act upon the advisory council of the Illinois division of the National Council of Defense. Mrs. Wood, as all women know, has been made executive secretary of the women's board of the National Council of Defense, and the idea, as is also known, is to organize the women for service in the crisis of the country's history so that their work may be centralized and made effective. Mrs. Mason has not as yet made her decision, as this would mean a scope of work which would require much time.

The offer is an honor to Mrs. Mason and one that is appreciated by Aurora.

Shower for Bride.

The members of the Loyal Daughters class of the First Presbyterian church gave a shower last evening at the church for one of their number, Mrs. Burdell Foster, who until her recent marriage, was Miss Gladys Somers. The decorations were in white, with a large white wedding bell. The bride was given a handsome mahogany rocking chair. Lunch was served, including a wedding cake, which when cut, disclosed a penny, ring and thimble, which were won respectively by the Misses Alpha Fowler, Hazel Jones and Ethel Armbruster.

DETECTIVE TAKES ACCUSED

C. W. Hainer and Edward Connor met at Gary, Ind. two weeks ago and decided to "put it" thru the west in search of work. At the time the acquaintance was struck up Hainer had money and Connor was financially embarrassed.

"I'll pay your way until we get started," Hainer said, and bought railroad tickets to Chicago. Arriving in there the men heard of Aurora and decided to come here. Hainer again paid the railroad fare.

The two got work here at the Western Wheelbarrow Works. They got a room at the Schiltz hotel. After six days' work, Connor suggested that they quit and go to the Dakota wheat fields. Hainer agreed.

He Had a Cold.

Early last evening Hainer complained of a cold and told his "pal" that he was going to bed early. He retired about 8 o'clock and went to sleep. A 3 o'clock knock this morning he woke up and discovered that Connor was gone. Hainer got up and turned on the light.

This is what he found in his own words:

"When I turned on the light I saw that my trousers were missing. I saw that my other two suits of clothes were gone. Then I looked for my grip and it was gone. I looked back of the picture on the wall and it was gone. I looked in the corner for my suitcase and it was gone. Then I looked back of the picture on the wall for the $20 I had hidden and it was gone. All I had left was my shirt, socks, underwear, hat and collar and necktie. I tried to get out of the room to notify the clerk and found the door locked. I was gone. I yelled and pounded on the door until the clerk came. He was a fine friend and pal, that guy was."

Detective Reed "the friend."

Detective Reiland, met Connor walking along Broadway after midnight carrying three grips. Connor asked where he could get a room and the detective directed him to the Columbus apartments. At 3:15 o'clock the police were notified of the robbery at the Schiltz. Detective Reiland found Connor in bed at the Strand hotel and arrested him. Connor confessed.

Before he could appear in police court this morning Hainer was compelled to borrow an old pair of trousers at the hotel. They were torn at the knee and were made for a man twice the size of Hainer. He appeared in court without a coat or vest. Connor's case was continued until tonight.

Both Hainer and Connor claim Indianapolis as their home.

PRAISES "ROSY" WHOM SHE FEARS IS LONELY

Eugene ("Rosy") Rosenberg, an Aurora lad at the United States naval training station at Great Lakes, Ill., who wrote to The Beacon-News asking Aurora folk to write to him, has received at least one letter. It was written by a sincere thinking woman. It read:

"Dear 'Rosy'—Your light-hearted letter published in the Aurora Beacon-News had to me a lot of wholesome sound."

"I am glad you think and speak so cheerfully of the part you are taking in serving your country. It should set a large number of young men thinking, who are still clinging to 'mother's skirts' waiting to see what will happen."

"I am sending you some postage envelopes and stamps and a sharp pencil—you may probably have been but a pencil can be used when pen and ink cannot be had."

"Wishing you may keep your heart bright and cheerfulness thru thick and thin and that God will bring you safely back to us, all covered over with triumphant and well-earned glory. I am truly a sincere and well wisher."

"May there be many 'someones' to write you and keep your heart gay."

FIREMEN RESCUE SAD SINGING CAT

Take Kitty Out of Tall Tree
After Coaxing of Women
Falls of Purpose.

Fireman Wins Confidence of Tabby and Brings It Down and Women Applaud Loudly.

Resourceful women living in the neighborhood called the fire department hook and ladder and crew yesterday to get a cat out of a tall tree.

The women had tied, with all the sweetness at their command, and with pans of milk, to coax the cat down but Kitty would not leave a perch in a top branch.

Kindly dispositioned as the women are they would have just as soon seen the cat fall and break its neck as to see it rescued because it was a singer of sad songs, who, starting each evening soon after darkness fell, wailed through the night.

With everybody getting depressed the women in council decided that the cat must be sacrificed or sold into slavery to save the morale of households.

But after the cat had scorned the women's blandishments, and their milk (it seemed that the well meaning tacticians were to be defeated, it was then that "a woman of the hour" suggested calling upon the fire ladders. The men came willingly and acted quickly.

Within a few minutes after the big automobile truck arrived a tall ladder was swung out and up, a fireman hurried nimbly up its rungs and addressed the cat and won her confidence. Then he seized her for him or it brought it down and made way with it. It tickled the women pink. Firemen are going to look good to them for a long while.

With triumphant and well-earned glory, I am truly a sincere and well wisher.

"May there be many 'someones' to write you and keep your heart gay."

RECRUITS IN DARK AS TO THEIR POST

Latest Rumor Heard From West High Volunteer Is That He May Go to Alaska.

West High school boys who rushed to the colors soon after volunteers were called for have been sent to widely different points since they landed at Jefferson Barracks, Mo. The boys when they enlisted hoped to remain in the same regiment.

How little the boys know of where they are to go is revealed in a letter to Will Olinger, from Frank Herrick, who is at Fort Leavenworth, Kas. Herrick says there are rumors about camp that they are to go to Alaska. Not many days ago the boys thought they were going to Arizona. Then they had it they were to go to the Mexican border, to Virginia, to Vermont, and to San Francisco.

When last heard from Gus Tebell, Lawrence Conway, George and Harold Johnson and Carlson were with the 24th Field artillery at El Paso, Texas.

Frank Kirby, with Paul Whitford and Foulke, were in Douglas, Ark. Bernard "Blinky" Conway, Elverson Geipel and William Lloyd, who was employed at the Bishop hotel, were at Fort Ethan Allen, on Lake Champlain, Vt.

Harold Cramer, a St. Charles lad who played football with West High while a student was with the boys at El Paso, and James McAdams and Joseph Wolf, who left shortly after the high school boys went to Douglas, Ark.

Herrick has been made a corporal. He is a lanky boy and would be happy to see his pals. "I want Kirby's and Tebell's address," he says in his letter. "Have you got it?" Like the rest of the recruits he speaks glowingly of the soldier's fare. "I have gained six pounds since I got here," he says. "The food is fine and there is lots of it.

THIS DAY IN ILLINOIS HISTORY.

May 15, 1832—Black Hawk war. John Reynolds, commander in chief Illinois militia. To the militia of the state of Illinois, Dixon's on Rock river: It becomes my duty again to call on you for your services in the defense of your country. The state is not only invaded by the hostile Indians, but many of your citizens have been slain in battle. A detachment of mounted volunteers commanded by Major Stillman of about 275 in number, was overpowered by the hostile Indians on Sydamers creek (distant from this place 30 miles) and a considerable number were killed. This is an act of hostility which cannot be understood. I am of opinion that the Pottawatomie and Winnebagoes have joined the hostile Sacs, and all may be considered as waging war against the United States. To subdue these Indians, and to drive them out of the state, it will require a force of at least 2,000 mounted volunteers more, in addition to the troops already in the field. I have made the necessary regulations on the proper officers for the above number of mounted men, and have no doubt the citizen soldiers of the state will obey the call of their country. They will meet at Hennepin on the Illinois river in companies of 50 men each on the tenth of June next, to be organized by brigade.—John Reynolds, commander in chief.

WAR TIME ACTIVITIES.

With the Navy league opening headquarters in a Broadway store building and the Red Cross movement taking on an enlarged work, Aurora is getting into the war game in an up-to-date fashion. This city has furnished its share of boys for the front and enthusiasm for the workers at home. Aurora, as the Beacon-News has been proud to state many times, has always been in the forefront when it came to patriotism and is pushing toward the front row of seats at the present time.

Day by day it becomes more apparent that this country has upon its hands perhaps the most strenuous work it ever assumed. In the handling of that job, this section of the country will be found as ever willing and able to contribute its just portion.

THE "CARNATION CORNER."

"Mother's day" was observed last Sunday. Hundreds of thousands of carnations were worn out of respect to the mothers living and the mothers dead.

The occasion was "eminently successful" from the viewpoint of those carnation raisers who boosted the price and soaked the public.

It compared favorably with the action of the bunting makers who have gathered in millions during the past few weeks by shooting up the price on flags.

This is one of the best examples we know about of the tendency of certain business men in this country to squeeze pennies out of the pockets of the people.

"Mother's day" was started as a tribute to "The Best Mother Who Ever Lived."

Its object is an all-nation observance for the well-being and honor of the home.

The badge is a carnation.

This flower was chosen because President McKinley loved it and always wore one in honor of his mother.

Congress and various state legislatures have passed resolutions calling for its observance.

President Wilson and governors have issued proclamations in accordance with these resolutions.

A Mother's Day International association has been formed, and Miss Anna Jarvis of Philadelphia, who started the movement, is its president.

Any son or daughter in any country is eligible to membership.

This movement has furnished to carnation growers a "capital stock" which has not cost them a penny.

A beautiful sentiment has provided them with a market.

Taking advantage of this free "capital stock" and this free market, some of them gouge the public every year.

The offense is annually growing more marked.

All carnation growers should not be included in the indictment. There are flag merchants who did not shove up the price until their stock was exhausted.

Each fellow claims a good excuse.

The carnation grower says the increased demand calls for an increased supply, consequently he puts the price up.

The carnation jobber adds his bit.

The carnation retailer adds his.

The carnation consumer who wants to be patriotic and sentimental gets the benefit of all these "bits," and is forced to pay double or treble for the privilege.

When objection is made, the carnation dealer says, "Well, if you don't want to pay the price, don't buy the flower."

Apparently that's the only way.

YOUR HEALTH

(By JOHN E. HUBER, A. M., M. D.)

In these days of our diseases come from the neglect of the body in the overwork of the brain—Bulwer.

This is a common non-contagious very chronic skin inflammation, in which there are coin-shaped patches. On these are white, silvery, easily detachable scales, resembling mother of pearl which, when removed, show a red pin-point like surface. Psoriasis is a dry eruption with little or no itching, affecting principally the extensor surfaces of the body. It differs from eczema in the comparative absence of itching (eczema always itches) in that eczema has generally a "weeping stage" and that eczema appears mostly on the flexor surfaces of the body, such as the folds of the elbow and behind the knee. The cause of psoriasis (pronounced without the p) is in many cases unknown. It affects both sexes alike and is found in every racial condition; is often hereditary; and in many cases depends on the same general condition as that which is responsible for the development of gout and rheumatism. In very many cases disorders of the nervous system are manifest.

The doctor must search diligently in each case the cause, without attention to this and its removal local applications will do little. The trouble often recurs in people whose general condition is poorly. The scales are removed by the use of tincture of green soap. An alkaline bath (three ounces of borax or six ounces of bicarbonate of soda to the ordinary bath) will help. Or, use an almond oil, such as almond oil, which is being done, use an ointment of chrysanthemum (20 grains to the ounce of vaseline, used after the scales have been removed. This ointment stains the clothing dark brown. When the psoriasis is on the scalp, as often happens, an ointment of ammoniated mercury (30 grains to the ounce of vaseline) should be preferred.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Choking Sensation.
Would catarrh cause a fullness in the throat so that it seems to choke? This trouble seems also to ache on each side of my neck just back of my ears running down to my chest.

Answer—Probably not. There may be a goiter. In very nervous people there may be a lump in the throat accompanied by a choking sensation. You should be thoroughly examined.

Psoriasis.
Blisters the size of a quarter red around the edges and white in the center have often made their appearance on my arm and body. Is this nervousness the cause? Answer—It is impossible to tell without examining the blisters and possibly psoriasis. In many such cases, yes. Read my article.

Kidney and Heart.

1. Is there any cure for kidney trouble? 2. Has kidney trouble anything to do with the heart? I have queer pains in the heart at certain times. 3. Does kidney trouble bring brown spots on the cheek. I have them but they are very faint, I am afraid they might become darker in the future. Answer—1. Most cases there is; it all depends on the nature of the trouble. Only an examination of the kidney excretion can determine the nature of the kidney ailment. In many cases, yes. When a heart is not working right the blood gets dammed back to the kidneys and naturally suffers from overwork. The kidneys need a thorough examination by a good family doctor. Better it is to forestall any possible ailment than to become sick perhaps beyond the possibility of cure. 3. These brown spots are chloasma, which I wrote about in this column.

EVENING CHIT-CHAT.

We Like and Dislike.
Do you like a person who you know does not like you? That is a great test of character, I think.

Dislike of people who one knows do not like or appreciate oneself is almost as instinctive as lifting one's arm to ward off the other kind of a blow.

It is only people in whom the inhibitions of justice and reason are strong, and self control is strong who refuse to let themselves be invariably return dislike for dislike.

The reason for our likes and dislikes are great self revelations.

Chasing Nibbles of Yourself.
If you want to catch an unspoken glimpse of your inner self, like the hidden surprise of a mirror confronts you at an unexpected angle, just study out the reason for some of your likes and dislikes.

Hazlitt declares, "he of all the world creeps the closest in our bosoms, as we do ourselves. Such an one is indeed the pattern of a friend, another self, and our gratitude for the being is as sincere as it is hollow in most other cases. This is one reason why entire friendship is seldom to be found except in love."

She Knows Everyone the Right Way.
That sounds very cynical, and yet I know a woman who has carried that philosophy and found it true. She is always finding delightful things about people to which we are rightly and usually grateful. She explained to me that she did not deliberately on the chance that the mutual friends would repeat the compliments to the people complimented and that that would favorably dispose the latter toward her—which it usually did.

Are Your Friendships Built on Such Foundations?
Now are all your friendships built on such a foundation as this? And do you have some in which your appreciation for the other party's fine qualities, your selfless admiration for his or her integral parts of the foundation?

And how about your dislikes? Are they merely reflections of the other party's dislike of you? Or are they founded on some less ignoble emotion, as for instance his untidy treatment of someone else?

There are good questions I think to ask oneself at any time of character stock taking.

THE SEARCHLIGHT

Fireproof Acres.
One of the greatest dangers to the war effort is that they will be set on fire by shrapnel or incendiary bullets. W. R. Weeks has written a letter to the Aero club of America stating that this difficulty has been overcome by the invention of a new type of compound which will not be set on fire by shrapnel or incendiary bullets.

And how about your dislikes? Are they merely reflections of the other party's dislike of you? Or are they founded on some less ignoble emotion, as for instance his untidy treatment of someone else?

European Countries Know Only Too Well What Such Relaxation Has Cost Them.

The future of this country depends as much upon the generation of boys and girls as upon the generation of young men and women.

A Columbia professor of sociology puts the case extremely well when he says:

"Not until every gallon of gasoline now used for pleasure has been diverted to war purposes; not until every superfluous table luxury has been taxed out of existence; not until every ounce of energy now put into the manufacture of expensive clothes has been redirected to the production of necessities; not until Mary, the maid, is punished for throwing away good food and Anne, the maid, is drafted for munitions work; not until mother and maiden aunt have been made to turn from card-table, novel, and afternoon tea to the making of clothes for the children, and, if necessary, until daddy has given up his after-dinner cigar; not until these and hundreds of other similar things are done to conserve the nation's productive power, and to prevent waste; not until then should lawmakers impose longer hours of labor on women or prevent girls and boys from learning the things necessary to the war effort."

"Not going into soil values, for that is a long story," began the older man. "Irrigation is the answer which science gives to the agriculturist who is impatient of backward methods."

"I believe," said the younger man, "that the irrigation of the land is a great advantage."

Wire Workers Wanted

(By Frederic J. Haskin.)

Washington, D. C., May 12.—There are thousands, even hundreds of thousands of men and women in the United States who are asking themselves the question, "What can I do?" Only a small percentage of the population can actually take the field, and there is not a single citizen who is not made uncomfortable by the thought that he is doing nothing of national value in the supreme national emergency, even though he is idle against his will. "What can I do?" The question comes from every side. The U. S. army signal corps can answer it for several thousand patriotic men and women.

The signal corps will need telegraph operators, wireless operators, and telephone and radio battalions as an essential to a victorious army as a good nervous system is essential to a healthy body. The wires and the radio waves are the nerves of the army, sensitive and alive, coordinating effort, carrying orders, communicating vital information. The signal corps will need telegraph operators. Where is it going to get them?

The requirements for the personnel of the signal corps are the same as those for any other branch of the active services, with the added qualification that a goodly percentage of the men must be expert telegraphers. They must measure up to the physical standard, come within the age limits, and so far as possible be free from dependents. For the army as at present authorized, four thousand such men will be needed, and a reserve of two thousand more will be almost equally necessary.

These four or six thousand telegraph operators, young, sound, free from dependents, are easily to be had in the United States—but when they go into army service they are going to take their place. This is a question really vital to the nation. There is positively no surplus of capable operators in the country at all adequate to the new demand, according to officers of the signal corps. Four thousand operators leaving the interior lines of the country would seriously hamper their efficient operation. And the efficient operation of the interior telegraph lines is absolutely essential to a nation at war.

Largest Fighting Nation.
In point of area, we are one of the largest of the belligerents. This means that in order to organize properly and efficiently our system of communications must be even more efficient than those of England, or France, or Germany, no one of which is as big as the state of Texas. To cut down the working forces of the big telegraph companies would be to cut down our military service. The army telegraph and radio companies must be organized at full strength with adequate reserves, for the modern army is helpless without them. The only solution is to train new operators, either for actual service, or to replace those who leave their present posts to serve. The need for beginning such training is pressing and immediate, according to the signal corps; its urgency can hardly be over-stated.

This need opens a road to service for several thousand men and women, who are physically or otherwise unqualified for active military service. Properly trained women can take the places of men on interior telegraph lines, and the same applies to men who are unfit for active service.

Men and women who will train themselves for such positions, says an officer of the signal corps, need have no further qualms on the question of whether they are doing their share for the flag in this strenuous hour. They will be doing an essential part, building a necessary link in the chain of physical victory. But they must be prepared for real work. The same officer. An efficient telegraph operator is only made by patient practice and application, covering hours of work daily for months. Men and women are wanted for this service who are ready to work for the flag in earnest.

amateur wireless operators of the nation to volunteer for training. Service interesting.

Men of the proper age and otherwise fitted for active military service who take up telegraphy and make themselves proficient in it will most probably be assigned to signal corps battalions on joining the army. Such service is usually particularly interesting to men who have made a study of telegraphy, say the officers of the corps.

Every division of infantry and cavalry in our new army will have a signal corps. A normal infantry division consists of about 22,000 men, so that the drafted army of 500,000 alone will call for 16 field battalions. Each field battalion consists of one radio company, one wire company, and one outpost company.

An army corps consists of two or more divisions, and in addition to the field battalions accompanying each army corps with a telegraph battalion, consisting of two telegraph companies. The field battalion keeps the division commander in touch with the separate regiments and with smaller units. All wire companies are equipped with materials for setting up and operating many miles of line with great rapidity. A single telegraph company will probably carry 1200 lines, poles and insulators.

As the situation shapes today, it is certain that telegraph operators are going to be badly needed in the near future. The army must have its thousands of operators, and it must be remembered that the force of 500,000 with which they will co-operate may be only the first contingent. An army big enough to win the war will be raised, whether that army consists of 1,000,000 men or 5,000,000. It will have to have its telegraphs. The interior telegraph lines cannot spare them without seriously lowering the national military efficiency.

They must be replaced. The men and women to replace them cannot begin to be trained too soon. That is what the signal corps means when it says that several thousand citizens can do so. The signal corps looks to the trainers. As a first step in getting the training under way, the Western Union Telegraph company has its offices all over the country. This arrangement will in all probability be supplemented by similar offers from other telegraph companies. Any man or woman who wishes to do his or her share toward winning the war by supplying the need for telegraphers has only to apply to the nearest Western Union office for information as to when and where training is given. Anyone who can get telegraph training thru other channels is encouraged by the signal corps to do so. The signal corps looks to the Gumption is the application of what you know to what to do. Try this on your brain.

RAILROAD MEN CAN WIN WAR FOR U. S.

This the Nucleus of Appeal Sent Over Nation by American Railway Association Head.

Less Time in Loading and Unloading, More Effort in Carrying for Engines Urged.

Every time a freight handler puts extra effort in trucking 1,000 pounds more a day in loading a car, he will have aided just that much in bringing the war to a close. Every time the crew of a railroad locomotive adds 15 miles a day to the running power of an engine they will have done their bit to end the terrible conflict. Also should that same crew guard that locomotive so as to keep it out of the repair shop they will have put an additional punch into the effort to bring the war to a victorious end for the United States and our allies.

These facts are the nucleus of an appeal to all railroad men, shippers and persons having anything to do with railroad work, which reached Chicago today from the American Railway Association's special committee on national defense. The appeal was signed by Fairfax Harrison, chairman.

Less Time to Load and Unload.
Statistics, according to the appeal, show that shippers and consignees consume about four days' time in loading and unloading freight cars. If a day or even half a day is cut from this time that car can be that much farther on its way to doing its work in the United States, and automatically release the same amount of energy toward supplying the army of the United States and the armies of France and Great Britain in the field.
There are about 2,150,000 freight cars in the United States. Normally 147,000 of these are under repair. By close watching and quick repair work,
Mr. Harrison declares, there can be 64,000 more freight cars in active service. Only 48 per cent of the engines of all cars is utilized, thus wasting a waste of 57 per cent of unused space. It is argued that if every car is filled to capacity there will be that many more cars in service.

The same situation exists as far as locomotives are concerned, according to the committee. Approximately 15 per cent of all the engines are under repair. If the percentage were reduced by 5 there would be added an additional 3,225 locomotives to the service.

Aim is to Increase Capacity.
"There is a demand for transportation that is not being supplied as a result of the war," states the "nucleus."
Some of these suggestions will increase operating costs, but their purpose being to increase the capacity of the plant the result is deemed to justify sacrifice in a national emergency.

The railroads were also urged to hold meetings between officials and employees to consult on the emergencies and act in increasing the railroad efficiency of the nation. Cooperation between heads of railroad freight and passenger departments

COL. FAYAN HOPES SCHOOLS ADOPT OATH

The Beacon-News is in receipt of the following letter from Col. George Fayan:

"Editor The Beacon-News: Frankly I am much pleased with the form of oath brought out by the great The Aurora Beacon-News to the matter, and I want to thank all those who took a part in it. I heartily congratulate both J. M. Richardson and Francis McQuinn, and I sincerely trust that the oath will be adopted by the different boards of education and administered to each boy as he enters high school.

"The nature of an oath should be made very plain to the boy before taking it, and he should realize exactly what it means.

"I understand that Francis McQuinn is now a cadet in the Batavia high school guards, and for this reason I trust the form of oath submitted by him will be the one adopted. In taking the oath, the boys should understand that it is not enough for them merely to go through the form, that it is not enough that they are sincere, and that their intentions are of the best,
but that the oath which they take means that they are to remember it, and turn it into real life, and in the oath specify their daily life.

"Very truly yours,

"GEORGE FAYAN."

"Find Aztec Art.

"By Associated Press Leased Wire.
Mexico City, May 15.—A group of Teresa streets have uncovered 55 splendid examples of Aztec art. These are portions of what once was the floor of the grand temple of Tenochtitlan, and portray the mythological gods and the Aztec gods. As the rainy season is approaching during which the tiles might be damaged they have been removed from the ruins to the department of inspection of archaeological monuments."

GERMAN POTATO SHORTAGE ACUTE

Only in Berlin and Essen Districts Where Labor Troubles Prevail, Is Ration Allowed.

Must Not Workers Get Five Pounds
per Week—Other Districts Supply Cut Down.

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)

Copenhagen, via London, May 15.—
The potato shortage in Germany is making itself felt in spite of assurances at the time the bread ration was reduced last month that enough potatoes were on hand to permit a weekly per capita issue of five pounds until the next harvest. The bureau of food control, by strenuous efforts, has been able to supply a five-pound ration in the Berlin and Westphalia industrial districts, where the labor crisis at the time of the reduction of the bread ration was particularly acute. Bitter complaints, however, are coming from various other sections of the empire which feel that they are being slighted in favor of the capital and the Essen district.

Much Less in Other Places.
In many sections of Bavaria, according to reports to the Reichstag, the potato ration is only 24 ounces weekly. The Hamburg ration is now and has been for weeks three pounds and the sister city of Altona has been placed for the next week on a pound and a half allowance.

It is true that in accordance with the government's promise the bread ration is not reduced where the five-pound allowance of potatoes is not furnished. Every pound extra of flour applied for this purpose, however, upsets the government's scheme of distribution, which was based on the fact that the stock of grain in the empire is barely adequate, under reduced rations, to carry the population thru until August 15, the earliest possible date when flour from the new harvest is expected to be available.

BABY DAY IN ENGLAND

(By Associated Press Leased Wire.)

London, May 15.—One thousand baby shows and perambulator parades will be part of a great national campaign to be held in England during the first week of July to promote the health and welfare of babies.

Mayors, medical officers of health and town clerks in 230 districts will cooperate with the National Baby Week council which is promoting the shows.
Lord Rhonda is chairman of the council which includes members of the cabinet, doctors and social workers.
In each of the 230 districts there will be a mothercraft and baby welfare exhibition with competitions and about 40 sections devoted to every feature of baby-rearing.
There will be a first aid section, showing how to deal with bumps, cuts, burns, children and other "gentle" troubles.

Which will you have?
You must decide
NOW!

YOUR grandfather's writing materials were a quill from a goose feather and a horn of ink.
YOU CARRY IN YOUR POCKET A MODERN FOUNTAIN PEN, INSTANTLY READY TO WRITE.

Your grandfather, when he went hunting, took along his heavy, flint-lock fowling piece.
YOU CARRY A LIGHT, HAMMERLESS, REPEATING SHOTGUN THAT IS IMMEDI-ATELY READY FOR ONE SHOT OR A DOZEN.

Your grandfather's lantern was a bulky tin affair in which a candle dimly burned.
YOU USE AN INSTANTANEOUS, BRILLIANT ELECTRIC FLASH-LIGHT THAT YOU CAN CARRY HANDILY IN YOUR POCKET.

The Encyclopaedia Britannica, printed on old-fashioned thick paper, makes a set of heavy, cumbersome, bulky books, one volume of which weighs eight pounds and requires a table to hold it while being read. The "HANDY VOLUME" ISSUE OF THE NEW ENCYCLOPAEDIA BRITANNICA, PRINTED ON THIN, GENUINE INDIA PAPER,
EACH VOLUME WEIGHING 23 OUNCES, IS
THE UP-TO-DATE, QUICK-ACTION, INSTANTLY AVAILABLE, INVITINGLY USABLE WAY OF OWNING THE GREATEST LIBRARY OF FACTS
EVER PUT INTO TYPE.

Here are the same differences that exist between the modern, always-ready fountain pen and the old-fashioned ink horn and quill; between the modern, ready-to-use shotgun and the old-fashioned fowling piece; between the instantly ready, brilliant flashlight and the clumsy candle lantern.

You can buy the new Britannica printed on thick paper, in big type, large page, get-your-table-ready-to-hold-it volumes now or at any time.
It will be obtainable in this form for years. There is no hurry.

But—if you want to own a set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica in the popular "Handy Volume" form, printed on genuine India paper—you must decide
NOW—for unless you buy NOW
you can NEVER buy it.

It is NOW—or NEVER because Saturday, May 26th (possibly a day or two before), will see the sale of the last remaining set of the India paper "Handy Volume" Britannica—and May 26th is only 11 days off.

When the last set is sold you NEVER can buy it in this form again. You can buy it NOW if you act NOW. This means just one thing—go TODAY to the store named below and see the Britannica—not a volume or two, but the entire set.

Look it over thoroughly. Learn the prices of the different bindings.
Go NOW while there is a choice of bindings. Learn the terms of our "You-use-the-books-while-you-pay-for-them" plan. Make up your mind whether or not the Britannica will be useful and helpful—THEN ORDER

Do not put this off even twenty-four hours.
Every order we receive increases the possibility that the remaining sets will all be sold before Saturday the 26th. Therefore—you must decide to NEVER buy OR to buy NOW!

Movie Notes

After an unsuccessful attempt to drown Jack Pickford during the production of "Freckles," Marshall Neilan, an endeavor to cut off one of his own feet with a lumberman's ax, and this experiment proved much more nearly successful than the first. It was on a wet day that the players had gone into the woods, and Neilan, while waiting for a cloud to pass from the face of the sun, picked up an ax and attempted to drive it into a nearby log. The blade skidded on the wet surface of the log, however, and cut a gash in his heavy lumberman's boots and very nearly severed three toes.

Kleine-Edison-Selig-Essanay announce that they are to distribute the Essanay pictorialization of "Efficiency Edgar," the series of stories published in The Saturday Evening Post. The first of these features is said to be completed, but the name of the star, who it is said, is one of America's foremost comedians, is withheld at present for business reasons.

Madame Petrova, who is soon to make her first appearance as a Lasky-Paramount star, is a most intense ally. Born in Russia and reared and educated in England, she is American by choice.

Says Joe Frey:

IN THESE days of high living costs every little economy tends to better conditions.

Here we buy back all our bottles and flasks and are willing to pay a liberal price for them. Further evidence of our attention to detail.

You'll have to hand it to us: Frey's is the real place to trade, where every effort is made to give the customer his due and where his patronage is appreciated.

Remember us for quality in wines, liquors and beers by this slogan—

"When You Get It At Frey's, It's Good"
